Panache Boyz is the new, fresh house music duo consisting of DJ MlaMza & DJ Mzu, which jointly has recently taken the Johannesburg & Pretoria party scene by storm. Although recently merging to form Panache Boyz, respectively, these DJs have been in the entertainment scene for some time on their individual capacities as Club DJs, Radio DJs & Event Organisers.

The DJs MlaMza & Mzu first met years ago in varsity where they were both Radio DJs at the campus radio station UKZN Radio. At the time, they were both individually focused in completing their academic studies and honing their careers as radio jocks and would only mix leisurely with other colleagues at the radio station after the station's operating hours only as a hobby; little did they know at the time that they would be house DJs and partner to form the now Panache Boyz.

After finishing their tertiary studies; MlaMza left Durban to Johannesburg and started DJing in 2006 while Mzu left Durban for Cape Town and started DJing in 2007. Mzu later came to Johannesburg where he kept on meeting MlaMza in 2010 at the same gigs that he was booked to play at. After their sets at these gigs, they would always chill together to discuss new trends and opportunities in the entertainment industry. These discussions lead to them establishing Panache Thursdays at the end of March 2011.

Panache Thursdays

The new uber Phuzza Thursdays craze that has hit Jo'burg hard! Thirst-days have never been the same! Panache Thursday Sessions combine the perfect mix of the most elegant flourishing Jozi people connecting with the ingenuous & lavish brands they consume while listening to enchanting music at a luxurious & exclusive venue – converging: enjoying splendid moments, celebrating self-worth, making key contacts, sharing the past, painting a luminous future & celebrating being panache.

Through the success of Panache Thursdays, MlaMza & Mzu were still constantly being booked to play on the same gigs and since their DJing styles and vision on the entertainment industry were similar, the DJ duo decided to extend their flourishing Panache Brand and formed Panache Boyz.

While the Panache Thursday Event has rapidly grown to attract reputable stylish brand sponsors and partners such as Remy Martin, Chivas and lately an exclusive sponsorship from Grey Goose till December 2011, the Panache Boyz DJs on the other side haven't been resting on their laurels; now a fluent DJ duo, renowned for their enchanting tasteful sets, enjoyed for their track selection and wildly celebrated for their mixing skills, it's no surprise that Panache Boyz are fast becoming prominent in South Africa's clubland.

Panache Boyz, entertain weekly at prime partying venues all over South Africa, constantly sharing the DJ Booth with prominent local and international DJs. The DJ duo has grown to matured connoisseur house DJs in the prime legion of the very rare DJ breed that can eloquently present a tranquil deep house set as good as their presentation of an up-tempo thumping set; favourably placing them as all-rounder DJs who can play at any time, with expertise to please different types of house music audience with their wide aural spectrum of house music.

Although mostly focusing on growing the Panache Brand to a well-known and celebrated entertainment brand nationally, the panache duo is also tirelessly working on producing and licencing music to form a music offering that will create a passage for them to the international dance music scene. Watch out for these Panache Boyz!
